

Fiber Optic Combination Router Login

Article Overview

To log in to your fiber optic combination router, access its admin panel via a web browser using the default IP address, username, and password, or use the manufacturer's mobile app.

Accessing the Router Admin Panel

- Connect your router to the fiber modem using an Ethernet cable, typically from the modem's LAN port to the router's WAN or LAN 1 port .
- Find the router's IP address:
 - On Windows, open PowerShell or Terminal and type ipconfig, then note the Default Gateway under your network adapter .
 - On macOS, go to System Preferences > Network > Advanced > TCP/IP and note the Router address .
- Open a web browser and enter the router's IP address in the address bar. This will bring up the login page .

Default Login Credentials

- Many fiber routers, such as Fiber Home models, have default usernames and passwords printed on the device or included in the manual .
- If the router has been reset, these defaults are required to log in. Common defaults are often admin for both username and password, but check your specific model .
