

Guyana Photovoltaic Distribution Box Manufacturer Supply

Article Overview

Guyana has several suppliers and distributors of photovoltaic (PV) systems and electrical components, including junction and distribution boxes, suitable for solar energy projects.

Local Manufacturers and Suppliers

- MM Industrial Suppliers Inc MM Industrial Suppliers provides a wide range of industrial and electrical equipment, including components for solar photovoltaic systems. They cater to sectors such as manufacturing, water treatment, and renewable energy, making them a potential source for PV distribution boxes and related solar components in Guyana .
- SolarOne Guyana SolarOne is a leading solar energy provider in Guyana, offering complete solar solutions including panels, inverters, lithium batteries, and system components. While primarily focused on full solar installations, they can supply or advise on PV distribution boxes as part of their integrated systems .
- Power Producers and Distributors Inc. (PPDI) PPDI operates Guyana's power plants and manages energy distribution. While their focus is on large-scale energy generation, they may provide contacts or procurement channels for industrial-grade electrical components, including distribution boxes for solar projects .
- Volza Supplier Directory According to Volza's export trade data, there are 23 verified junction and box suppliers in Guyana, which include manufacturers capable of supplying PV distribution boxes. This directory provides direct contact information for decision-makers, shipment history, and buyer distribution, allowing for informed supplier selection
