

Special Price for Primary Electrical Boxes and Distribution Boxes

Article Overview

The cost of primary electrical and distribution boxes ranges widely from around $10 for basic residential units to over $2,000 for industrial-grade, fully equipped systems.

Residential Electrical Boxes

For standard residential installations, basic single-gang plastic boxes typically cost $10-$30 per unit, while metal or deeper boxes can range from $20-$100, depending on size, material, and weatherproofing features . These boxes are designed for standard 120/240V circuits and may include mounting screws, connectors, and minor wiring adjustments . Weatherproof or tamper-resistant models can increase the price by 30-60% compared to standard indoor plastic boxes .

Commercial and Industrial Distribution Boxes

Commercial and industrial distribution boxes are more expensive due to higher capacity, durability, and advanced features. Prices vary based on voltage rating, amperage, number of circuits, and material construction:

- Small modular units: $200-$500
- Medium three-phase units: $500-$1,500
- Large industrial-grade stainless steel units: $1,500-$2,500 or more These boxes often include circuit breakers, surge protection, busbars, and smart monitoring capabilities. Outdoor or weather-resistant enclosures carry premium pricing due to...
