

Which company makes the best low-voltage distribution boxes in the UAE

Article Overview

Top manufacturers in the UAE include Kesher Automation, ABN Electric, Schneider Electric, Siemens, and ABB, all known for high-quality, certified, and reliable low-voltage distribution boxes.

Leading UAE Manufacturers

Kesher Automation is a prominent UAE-based manufacturer and exporter of LT (Low-Tension) Distribution Boxes. Their products are CPRI approved, ensuring compliance with international safety and performance standards. Kesher's distribution boxes are designed for industrial, commercial, and infrastructure applications, offering protection against overloads, short circuits, and electrical faults. They provide customizable configurations, robust enclosures, and energy-efficient operation, making them suitable for high-demand environments while minimizing maintenance and downtime . ABN Electric, established in 2013, is another top-tier UAE manufacturer. They offer a comprehensive range of low-voltage switchgear and distribution solutions, including control panels, MCBs, MCCBs, automatic transfer switches, and solar-based switchgear. ABN Electric emphasizes international quality standards, smart switchgear, and energy-efficient components, with strong after-sales support and the ability to handle large-scale projects .
